

Fixing Your Email Settings in Yahoo Mail

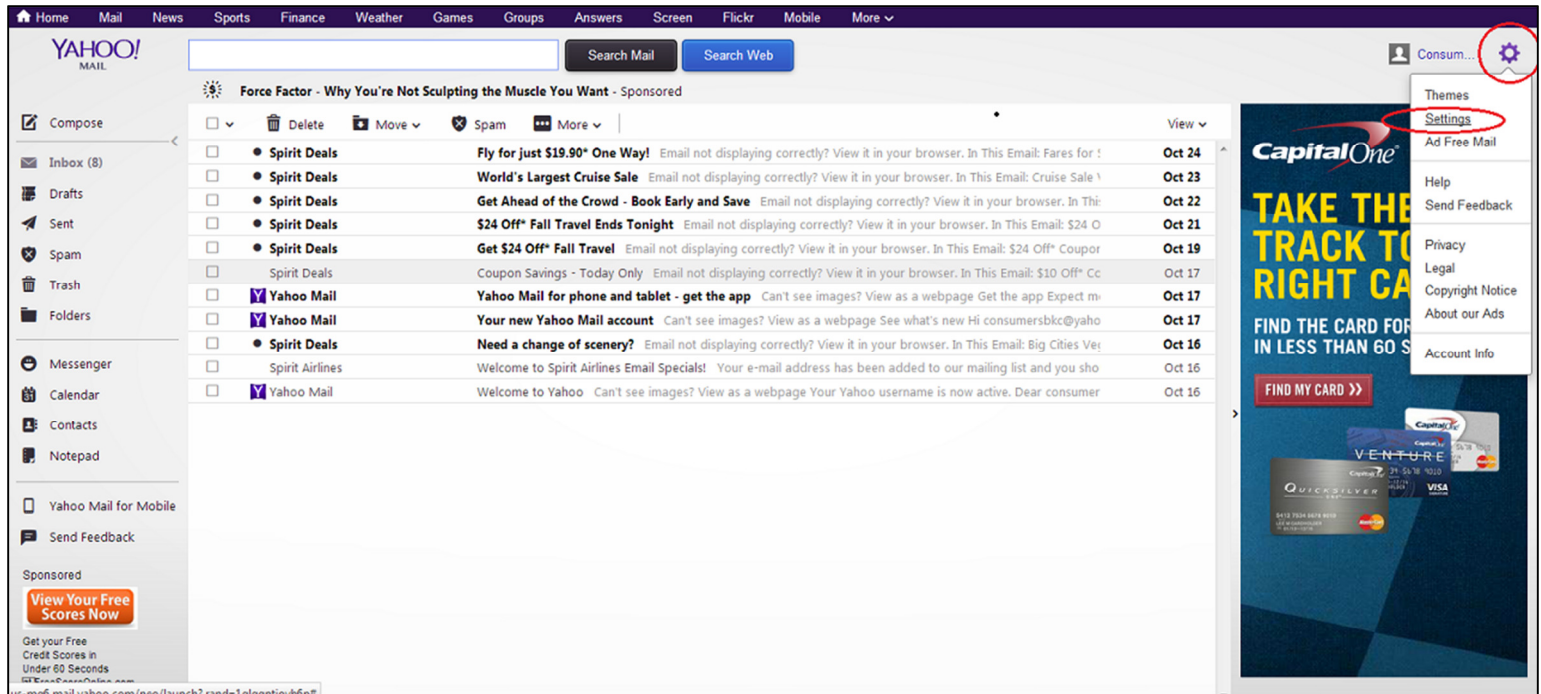

Yahoo! Mail recently updated their system and so many of the email Forwards that SBKC has received from people with Yahoo email addresses since then have been missing vital information that we need. Here is a quick step-by-step guide on how to change your setting so that we get the right information and you get your well-deserved points!

1. Sign into your Yahoo Mail account. It should look like the below image, if it does not then you do not have to change your settings!
